Rich Kanahwa BOTTOM LAND

FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale, or exchange for improved property, in or near the town of Alexandria, fourteen hundred acres of RICH BOTTOM LAND, on the Great Kanahwa River, near its mouth, which enters into the Ohio. This land is of the very first quality, being almost entirely bottom, equal in many respects to those rich bottoms on the Potomac. It is laid off into lots from 150 to 350 acres, each lot fronting on the river and extending to the hills, which afford an outlet to a most extensive range for stock, which never can be interrupted. One hundred acres, therefore, of this rich bottom, with its great advantages, would be a good settlement. A small part of this land, which is under cultivation, rents at the rate of two dollars per acre.—For further particulars apply to the subscriber,

Foreign News Continued.

From London papers received at the office of the Mercantile Advertiser.

LONDON, November 30.

The Danes complain most bitterly of the dilapidations committed by the British, and of their plunderers. Without supposing that our soldiers have manifested any peculiar rapacity in Zealand, it must go to the heart of every one concerned for the honor of the country, to find the very reproaches which we once justly hurled against our enemies, now heaped on our own heads. How often has our press groined beneath the weight of accusing matter; describing the French as sacking the towns and villages of the continent of their plate, and stealing even their bedding, to supply a tumultuous army. How often have we traced Bonaparte in his march by a line of devastation, and represented him as razing to the ground what he could not convert into profit. Let any one compare these censures with the complaints of the Danes, in another part of our paper, and they will find that by their new system ministers have already made rapid progress in rivaling the glory of Napoleon.

The Turkish empire is represented as too far decayed to be repaired. It must be entirely reorganized. It no doubt suits Bonaparte's purpose to represent it in this light; but we believe the statement to be pretty correct. Selim the 3d, the late unfortunate possessor of the Ottoman Throne, is described as a man calculated to restore the dying energies of his dominions, if they had not been beyond the reach of aid. He was a liberal promoter of improvements; and strenuously exerted himself to introduce a more enlightened policy into his government. He patronized the press which had been recently established at Constantinople; but this institution perished with him.

An article from Copenhagen mentions that Sweden has concluded an armistice with France; and that Bruce is appointed to negotiate the peace. This intelligence we deem highly probable.

A Portuguese vessel, which had been chartered at a large price, after having been at sea 8 days, and after proceeding 90 leagues on her way to England under convoy of the Lavinia frigate, returned to Oporto, in a very disabled state; both ship and cargo were immediately seized. The cargo is ordered to be sold for the benefit of the government, and the ships to be confiscated in consequence of her having British property on board.

The intentions of the Russians in entering the Tagus become more suspicious from the artifices they adopted to effect their purpose. While at Gibraltar they took infinite pains to impress a belief of their design to winter in a British port, and even stooped to the deception of requesting to be furnished with Channel Pilots. We cannot help affixing a sinister motive to such stratagems. It appears also that the fleet at Cadiz, consisting of 5 French and 5 Spanish men of war, are, as we on Saturday observed, eagerly watching an opportunity to put to sea; and by dispatches received from our squadron off Ferrol we learn that the 7 Spanish ships in that harbor manifested a similar wish. A general junction in the Tagus is with probability supposed to be the design actuating these movements.

Sir Sidney Smith has, no doubt, reached the Tagus before this. He passed our squadron off Ferrol on the 14th instant.

Admiral Keats's squadron broke up on Friday from St. Helen's.

As express went off last night to Woolwich, with orders to expedite two ship loads of Congreve's rockets for one of the expeditions in contemplation of government. Mr. Congreve will accompany the expedition, for the purpose of superintending the application of these destructive engines, as in the attack on Copenhagen.

6th. The Flotilla of Ochocz, 11 vessels, carrying 36 guns.

7th. At Sea, 11 ships of the line, carrying 760 guns, the precise stations of which are not mentioned, neither are the smaller vessels particularised.

8th. Building 10 sail of the line.

Total—53 sail of the line; 34 frigates; 59 cutters, brigs &c. smaller vessels 226; carrying in all 44,528 pieces of cannon.

The Swedish fleet at present consists of 12 sail of the line and 8 frigates, besides cutters, galleys, &c. There are two ships of the line building.

The British navy at present comprises 201 sail of the line, 35 fifties, 258 frigates, 530 sloops of war, brigs, &c. besides an immense number of cutters, and other armed vessels.

LIVERPOOL, December 2.

An idea of the severity of the weather may be formed from the following circumstance which occurred on Monday se'night:—As four drovers, on their return from the south, were passing over Shadwell, three of them were so overcome with the cold, that they were unable to proceed further. In this emergency, the fourth took upon his shoulders one of his companions who appeared more exhausted than the others, and conveyed him to the nearest public house, at the distance of a mile and a half, though the poor man performed the journey without his shoes, having lost them in the snow. Having relieved himself of his burden, he instantly set out again in search of those he had left behind, whom he found somewhat recovered, they having, during his absence, killed a sheep which they found on the fell, and prevented the vital spark from being extinguished, by wrapping its warm intestines around their benumbed feet and hands. On reaching the public house, they found their friend a lifeless corpse.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

THURSDAY, February 11.

Mr. Newton presented a memorial from the inhabitants of Norfolk and its vicinity, praying for a grant of twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars to complete a canal connecting the waters of Albemarle sound in N. C. with those of Elizabeth river Va.

Referred to the committee of commerce & manufactures.

Mr. Newton said it had become necessary to call the attention of the house to the act laying the embargo, the restrictions of which are not yet sufficiently strong, and it was necessary in order to have effectual laws that all cases arising under them should be provided for. Those states in the neighborhood of foreign states had taken advantage of the provisions excepting vessels of five tons burthen from the general restriction.

To provide against cases of that description and some others he moved the following resolution, in order that the operations of the law should be equalized.

Resolved, That the committee of commerce and manufactures be instructed to enquire whether any, and if any, what further restrictions in addition to those already imposed by the act laying an embargo on all ships and vessels in the ports and harbors in the U. States, and by the act supplementary to the last mentioned act, are necessary to prevent the exportation of goods, wares, and merchandize of foreign or domestic growth or manufacture to any foreign port or place, and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

On this resolution a desultory conversation took place between Messrs. Witherell, Newton and Fisk, in which however no objection was made to the resolution. It was stated that foreign vessels were not by law inhibited from going from port to port in the U. S. with the products of our country; and may go to Passamaquoddy from any southern port in the U. S. and thence transport their cargoes across the bay by means of boats under five tons burthen; and thus foreigners may enjoy the benefit of that traffic from which citizens of the U. S. are precluded; that the citizens of Vermont and other northern states also enjoy the benefits of trade by means of these boats across lakes Champlain, Erie, &c. and that the embargo thus operates as a mean of fourfold profit to some while it denies the common intercourse of commerce to others.

The resolution was adopted without objection; and Mr. Newton from the committee of commerce and manufactures, reported the bill to amend an act entitled "An act supplementary to an act entitled an act laying an embargo on all ships and vessels in the ports and harbors of the U. S." which was twice read and referred to a committee of the whole on Saturday.

On motion of Mr. J. Montgomery the committee of the whole was discharged from the consideration of the bill concerning courts martial and courts of enquiry, as some parts had been thought exceptionable and it was recommended to the committee who reported it, 63 to 17.

Mr. Bacon presented the petition of Timothy Wellman of Salem, Mass. praying the payment of two thirds of the amount of certain bills drawn in favor of Denton, Hall and Nathan, by the minister plenipotentiary of the U. S. to France, which was referred to the secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Burwell called up his resolution offered a few days ago relative to the procuring certain arms. He wished it to be referred to the committee who might bring in a bill, which might pass or not as the sense of the house might then be.

The House agreed to consider the resolution, ayes 63; and it was then passed without a division.

On motion of Mr. Poindeexter. Resolved, That the committee on public lands be instructed to enquire into the expediency of offering for sale the lands lately ceded to the United States by the Chactaw nation of Indians, in the manner in which the other lands of the United States south of the state of Tennessee, are directed to be sold, and that they report thereon by bill or otherwise.

The house again went into a committee of the whole, Mr. Cutts in the chair, on the bill to extinguish the debts due from the United States. The motion to strike out the first section being yet under consideration, Messrs. Cook, Upham, Johnston, Dana, Rowan and Milnor opposed the motion, and Messrs. Rhea (T.) and Taylor supported it. When

Mr. Fisk moved that the committee rise and ask leave to sit again.

Mr. Dawson said that early in the session the president had invited their attention to the great subject of national defence. Have we, said he, attended to that invitation? No; we have met here day after day, week after week, discussing subjects which relate to our internal affairs. I hope a great majority of the house are prepared to say that we shall get rid of this subject which has been discussed over and over again, and on which each speech that is made is a repetition of what has gone before, and prepare for events which may arise. I hope the committee will not rise.

Mr. Newton held the same opinion as the gentleman just sat down, but should vote for the rising of the committee that the subject might be postponed for a few weeks.

Mr. Lyon hoped that the subject would not be postponed as proposed by the gentleman last up; for after the discussion which had taken place during these two days, every gentleman was now prepared to vote on the principle.

The committee then rose, forty-six to thirty-nine, and obtained leave to sit again, ayes sixty-five.

Mr. Newton was far from averse to satisfying all just claims on the nation; but, when they viewed the situation of the country, the alarming crisis which now prevailed, gentlemen would think with him that all the energies of the nation should be exerted to place it in the best possible situation to meet events. Conceiving that it was his duty to attend to this object, he moved to postpone the further consideration of the bill till the first Monday in March.

Mr. Cook said when he had called up this, he had believed that there was a temporary suspension of urgent public business, and he had never been inclined to push this on to the exclusion of other matter of more importance, nor ever would. He hoped the gentleman would withdraw his motion.

A motion to adjourn was now made, and carried 47 to 44.

Friday, Feb. 13.

Mr. Bacon presented the following memorial. To the Hon. the House of Representatives of the United States of America.

Respectfully represents the undersigned, a citizen of the state of Massachusetts, that he has been duly appointed the agent of the New England Mississippi company for the purpose of supporting their claims before the Congress of the United States and finally liquidating & adjusting the same; and he most respectfully prays that he may be admitted to a hearing at the bar of the house of representatives in behalf of said company, to state their rights and explain their claims—and as in duty bound will ever pray, &c.

JOSEPH STORY.

Feb. 10, 1808.

Which being read, Mr. Bacon offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the prayer of the petition of Joseph Story as agent of the New-England Mississippi company, praying that he may be admitted to a hearing at the bar of this house in behalf of the said company to state their rights and explain their claims which are now pending before Congress be granted; and that the house will proceed to hear said agent, accordingly, at this bar, on Monday 22d of February instant.

The house agreed to consider the resolution.

A short debate took place on the resolution (which shall appear in our next, not having room for it in this paper) when the resolution was negatived, yeas 28, nays 76.

The house went into committee of the whole, 56 to 33, Mr. Bacon in the chair, on the bill making appropriations for carrying into effect certain Indian treaties. The bill being gone through, reported and passed on to a vote on Monday.

On motion of Mr. Fisk. Resolved, That the committee on public lands be instructed to enquire into the expediency of allowing further title to the lands of the Indiana territory, to complete the survey of claims to land in the said district, and that they have leave to report by bill or otherwise.

Mr. Doyle from the committee of public lands, reported a bill authorizing the sale of the lands of the United States, and for other purposes; which was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole.

A bill from the senate for the relief of Joseph Chase, Jared Carney, and others, was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole.

Adjourned to Monday.

SALEM, February 6.

The following agreeable intelligence was received here last night, by the ship Malaga from Malaga.

PEACE WITH ALGIERS.

(CIRCULAR.)

Algiers, December 16, 1807.

SIR,

You have undoubtedly before this heard that three American vessels had been detained by a frigate of this place, in consequence of the annuities for two years past not having been paid by the United States in naval stores, as stipulated by treaty, notwithstanding the amount thereof has been repeatedly offered in cash.

These vessels are the ship Eagle, of New York, Nathaniel Thader, master; brig Violet, of Boston, Jas. Merrett, master; schooner Mary-Ann, of New York, Sheffield, master.

The people on board the vessels have been treated very well, and no pillage of any kind has been committed.

I have now the honor to inform you that I have adjusted this business with the Dey, who has received the amount of two years annuities due in cash, and the vessels are liberated; and that our commerce will receive no further molestations from the cruizers of this regency.

I pray you will have the goodness to give this as much publicity as possible, for the benefit of all concerned.

I have the honor to be,

Sir, yours, &c.

TOBIAS LEAR.

Postscript. December 17, 1807.

We have this moment heard, by an arrival from Leghorn, that the schooner before mentioned has arrived in Naples, having been taken by the captain and part of the crew on board, who threw overboard four of the captors, and put four others in the boat to shift for themselves.

I have myself received no advice of this, and on application to the Dey, who first sent me the information, he assures me that it shall not alter the arrangement made yesterday, and that our vessels may navigate without fear or molestation.

At present all their cruizers are in port.

I have the honor to be, &c.

TOBIAS LEAR.

The Proprietor of the Alexandria Daily Advertiser, will dispose of the Establishment on moderate terms—there are now nearly six hundred Subscribers and the List increasing.—To a Person of Industry and Talents for conducting a Newspaper, this would be a desirable Situation. TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 16.

It gives us pleasure to state that definitive arrangements have been made for the execution of that part of the treaty with Tripoli that relates to the ex-bashaw. His family have been liberated, and sailed from Tripoli on the 18th of October, carrying with them their property, their slaves, and a present from the reigning to the exiled brother.

(Nat. Intel.)

Extract of a letter from an American Vice Consul in Spain, dated Oct. 12.

"Without any of your esteemed favors, the purpose of the present is to inform you, that a large frigate, a brig and seven small vessels like bombketches, all Algerines, armed in war, have appeared off this coast, a few days since, and continue cruising between Adra and the Cape. They have as reported here, already picked up some small vessels under Portuguese, Sardinian, and Jerusalem colors, and sent them for Olan and Algiers. The frigate is the one they have taken some time ago from the Portuguese."

Extract of a letter of date from an American gentleman at Cadiz to his friend in Philadelphia.

"The report of the day is that the emperor Napoleon has demanded that the prince of Asturias shall expose the niece of the emperor Josephine, and that in case of his refusal war will be declared by France against Spain. There is a large number of French troops in Spain, and it is believed these are only waiting for a pretext to take possession of the government. The distress among the poor is beyond description, and every day growing worse."

[FROM THE GAZETTE U. S.]

Extracts of letters from the city of Washington.

"It is now pretty well ascertained that in the late electioneering caucus held at this place, there was a perfect understanding among the members composing the meeting, that in the event of a war with Great Britain, which all considered as inevitable, Mr. Madison was to resign his pretensions, and Mr. Jefferson was still to continue president. This accounts satisfactorily for Mr. Munroe's name not being made use of, as that gentleman had too much pride and too much independence to become a mere stalking horse for any body."

"You may have seen in governor Sullivan's speech to the legislature of Massachusetts the first open avowal of the proposed alliance between this country and France. That gentleman, as the saying goes, has hit the nail upon its head. What think you of the Floridas as a gift for nothing: of thirty or forty thousand French soldiers to assist us in extending our territory to the north: and a little gold and silver from the mines of the king of Spain in the North and South America: and a few more et ceteras not so proper to be publicly known? Is this not enough? Well then, if you are not satisfied, prepare yourself to hear with joy and exultation that France is ready to enter into a solemn treaty with us, promising that she will support our liberty and independence forever. What think you of the scheme? Will it take? Wont the people swallow the bait? It is thoroughly believed that our administration are nibbling at it, if it is not already fixed in their Gills."

"There are some here so extremely sanguine in their expectations of the immediate conquest of Great Britain, that they begin to fear that this country will be chosen as an asylum for the wealth, the arts, and some portion of the population of the British isles: hence Mr. Burwell's curious idea respecting that part of the constitution of the U. States, which every body knows was introduced for no other purpose than to prevent, after the year 1808, the importation of slaves. The ideas of affording an asylum to oppressed humanity is going out of fashion. If any poor creatures escape from the fire and the sword, we are to give them back to the conqueror that none may be saved. The Aurora man with you and the Nat. Intelligencer with us, I perceive every day putting up equally ardent prayers for the destruction of G. Britain. I wish our wiseacres would take it into their heads to propose an alteration of our constitution, which would go to forbid the introduction of foreign armies into our country on any pretence whatsoever. If the present negotiation terminates in war, (which a great many expect will be the case) rely upon it many months will not elapse before a French army will be landed in the U. S. They will come as our friends, and when they once are inside of our doors, we never shall get them out again. Many people are very quiet and easy upon this score, because they think that the British fleets would intercept them on their way; but let us remember that the French landed 20,000 men in Egypt while a superior English fleet was in the Mediterranean sea and close upon their heels."

Died in the month of Nov. last, at the advanced age of 110 years, DENNIS HARRISON, the blind bard of Magilligan, Ireland, of whom so interesting an account is given by Miss Owenson in her elegant work, 'The Wild Irish Girl.' A few hours before his death he tuned his harp, in order to have it in readiness to entertain Sir H. Bruce's family, who were expected to pass that way in a few days, and who were in the habit of stopping to hear his music; shortly after however, he felt the approach of death, and calling his family round him, resigned his breath without a struggle, being in perfect possession of his faculties to the last moment. The following tribute is paid to his memory in the English paper from which we have copied this notice of the death of the last of the Irish Minstrels: N. Y. paper.

The fame of the brave shall no longer be sounded,
The last of our bards sleepeth cold in his grave;
Magilligan's rocks where his lays have resounded,
Frown dark o'er the ocean and spurn at the wave.

For, HAMPSON no more shall thy soul touching finger Steal sweet o'er the strings, and wild melody pour;
No more near thy hut shall the villagers linger, Whilst strains from thy harp warble soft round the shore.

No more thy heart swells with enraptured emotion,
Thy wild gleams of fancy forever are fled;
No longer thy minstrelsy charm the rude ocean,
That rolls near the green turf which covers thy head.

Yet vigour and youth with bright visions had fir'd thee,
And rose buds of health have blown deep on thy cheek;
The songs of the sweet bards of ERIN inspir'd thee,
And urg'd thee to wander like laurels to seek.

Yes, oft has thou sung of our kings crown'd with glory,
Or sighing repeated the lovers' fond lay;
And oft has thou sung of the bards fam'd in story,
Whose wild notes of rapture have long past away.

Thy grave shall be screen'd from the blast & the billow, Around it a fence shall posterity raise;
ERIN's children shall wet with their tears thy cold pillow,
Her youth shall lament thee, and carol thy praise.

The Members of the Rifle Company are requested to meet at the market square, at 10 o'clock, on the 22d instant, to join in the procession contemplated in honor of the day. The privates are especially requested to appear with their arms and accoutrements in complete order.

By request of the 2d Lieutenant,

GREAT BARGAIN.

INTENDING to remove to the state of Tennessee as soon as possible, I wish to dispose of the following valuable and increasing property upon low terms, which property I inherited from my ancestors, who have had a legal title to the same for upwards of one hundred years.

One tract well known by the name of ABINGDON, being on the Potomac river between Alexandria and George Town, and nearly opposite the city of Washington, beautifully situated, containing about Four Hundred acres, now leased to the Mr. Wises for three hundred and sixty dollars per annum with other stipulations contained in the sar-lease.

One other tract contiguous to the first, leased to William Fraser for forty dollars per annum, containing about sixty acres.

One other tract containing ten acres of bottom land, adjoining the Four Mile Mill tract.

One other tract contiguous to the Abingdon estate, and within two and a half miles of George Town, containing 725 acres.
The greatest part of this land is heavily covered with red and white Oak.

A L S O,

Three thousand acres on the Scioto
River, in the state of Ohio.

This tract descended to me from my uncle George D. Alexander, being one moiety of the land he was entitled to for his military services during the revolutionary war. All the title papers with the wills under which I am entitled to the above property, are in the hands of BALDWIN DADE, Esq. to whom application will please to be made for terms &c.
he being legally authorised to contract and dispose of all the above valuable property, for which good and satisfactory titles will be given.

REAL PROPERTY. VIZ.

THREE comfortable Dwelling Houses with elegant stores, on the south side of King, between Fairfax and Royal-streets, lots extending back 175 feet; at present occupied by Joseph Janney, James Russell, and James R. Riddle and Co. The situation is considered to be amongst the best for business in Alexandria.

A dwelling house and lot on the north side of King-street, near the corner of King and Pitt-streets, occupied by Samuel Snowden.

A lot, fronting 56 feet on Pitt-street, extending back 119 feet, and bounded on the south by an alley, on which a shed occupied by M. Dorsey, coach-maker.

A brick dwelling house on Prince-street, betwixt Fairfax and Royal-streets, occupied by William Lovering.

Also, the vacant lots adjoining, on each side of said house. Their situation for business equal to any unimproved property in town.

That large commodious and brick tavern, in George-Town, with all the buildings and improvements attached thereto, situated on the main street leading from the public ferry, occupied by Joseph Semmes.

Three handsome three story brick dwelling houses, with brick stables and carriage houses, being part of the six buildings, situated on Pennsylvania-avenue, in the city of Washington.

A handsome, commodious, and well finished brick dwelling house, in Charlestown, Jefferson county, late the property of Van Re-therford, with a large garden and the corner storehouse on same lot, situate near the centre of the main street.

Also, a tan-yard with sundry improvements,
a comfortable dwelling house and lot adjoining, very handsomely situated, &c. Late the property of George Hite.

Also, a two story house and lot on the main street, at present occupied by Charles Poullin.

And a vacant lot on the main street, in a central situation for business.

For particular information respecting the above property in Charles-Town, application may be made to William Tate, Esq. of that place, or to Henry St. George Tucker, Esq. of Winchester.

A tract of land in Loudoun county, containing 400 acres, situate near the Gum Spring lake the property of J. Spencer. On this tract there are two settlements and about 60 acres in cultivation, the rest of the land well timbered; the new turnpike road will pass thro'
a part of this tract. Captain Charles Lewis living near the Gum-Spring, will show this to any person desirous of viewing it.

One other tract of 196 acres, in Frederick county, about four miles from Winchester and near the lands belonging to Judge Holmes.
For particulars apply to Henry St. George Tucker, Esq.

One other tract of 400 acres, in Hampshire county, on a branch of Fairley's Run, near the town of Frankfort, formerly owned by Daniel Jones.

One other tract of 500 acres, in Randolph county, being part of an old military survey, on the south side of Glad Creek, considered to be of excellent quality. This tract is situated in a thickly settled part of that country, and contiguous to the main road leading from Randolph to the horse-shoe-bottom, on Cheat-river.

One other tract, named Fertility, of 200 acres, in Westmoreland county, state of Pennsylvania; situated on the Monongahela river, and binding thereon for 3-4 of a mile, about one quarter of a mile below Casner's ferry, and 4 miles above Purkinton's ferry. A large proportion is rich bottom land, with a valuable orchard of sugar trees and about 60 acres in cultivation. The main road from Uniontown to Pittsburg passes close by this land.

Any part of the above described property are disposed to sell at reasonable rates, on the following terms, viz. One fifth in hand, and the residue in three or four equal annual payments, the purchaser giving bonds with security on the premises.
